WHISKEY VS COFFEE

A WOMAN EXPERIMENTS.

Some families have had experiences with whiskey. Probably twice as many families have sickness and distress caused by coffee and the cause not suspected half the time.

A woman from Tacoma, Wash., says: "One of our family had become so ill that the doctor finally pronounced him incurable from enlarged liver. He recommended a sea voyage, which might prolong his life, but said it was only a question of time when he would die from the disease."

"He was dreadfully nervous, thin, could not sleep at night, lost flesh and strength daily and everything he ate or drank soured on his stomach. He was so weak and faint he could hardly walk about."

"I finally came to the conclusion that coffee made the mischief, so took coffee away from him altogether, and next morning gave him Postum Food Coffee. He steadily began to get better and has never had a sour stomach from that time. He now sleeps all night where he used to suffer the agonies of death. He has gained over 20 pounds and is well and strong."

"My little boy was given coffee at an early age and he began to have spells of sickness at times. I did not suspect the trouble until my experience with Postum opened my eyes, then I took coffee away from him and gave him Postum steadily. If you should see him now and see how well and strong he is you would not believe it was the same puny boy he was when he was drinking coffee."

"An acquaintance of ours carried Postum with him to the gold fields of Alaska. He says he met some men up there who had run out of Postum and could not drink coffee. They offered him as high as $20 a pound for the Postum. He said it was worth $40 a pound to him, for it gave him strength to endure the hardships and that he would not part with it at any price until he could get more."

"Now about my own case. I was a sick, nervous woman and did not suspect it was coffee, but from the experience I had gained about two years ago I quit coffee and took up Postum Food Coffee. My appetite improved. I can eat anything, have no indigestion and have gained about forty pounds in the two years."

"I know of a man whose eyes were so affected by coffee drinking that he was going blind. The doctor suspected coffee to be the trouble and ordered him to quit and take on Postum Food Coffee. The change produced a great change in his eyes. He gradually got better and has now left off his glasses altogether. He would have been stone blind if he had not quit coffee and taken up Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

MAGAZINES OF THE COLLEGES.

Fourteen Universities Publish a Newspaper Every Week Day.

There are fourteen colleges in the United States which publish a newspaper every week day. College journalism is peculiar to America, as in no other country in the world is such work undertaken. Three of these papers have become dailies this fall: The Columbia Spectator, the Daily Maroon of the University of Chicago, and the Indiana University Daily. The Harvard Echo, which was started in 1879, was the first college newspaper to be published daily. Later it was merged with the Weekly Crimson under the latter's name. About the same time, at New Haven, the Yale Daily News was started. In 1889 the Cornell Daily Sun appeared, and some time later the Princetonian, organized in 1876, became a daily. Pennsylvania was the fifth college to publish a newspaper every day, and started the Pennsylvanian in 1885, it later becoming a daily. In 1891 the Brown Daily Herald was started at Brown University. The Western daily college papers are as follows: At the University of California; the Californian; at Leland Stanford, Jr., University; the Palo Alto Daily; at the University of Minnesota, the Daily Minnesota; at the University of Wisconsin, the Daily Cardinal, and at the University of Michigan, the U. of M. Daily.—The Princetonian.

Mooney Won at Last.

Mooney stood shamefacedly in the dock, casting furtive glances at the justice, who eyed him sternly. "Well, Mooney, you are accused of beating your wife. What have you to say why you shouldn't be punished?" "Who says I beat her, sir?" "She herself testifies to it." "What! The old lady herself don't deny it! Well, then, I'll pay wid pleasure, for I'll be hanged if it isn't the first time in all our rows that she's owned up to coming out second best!"
